Play casino reasonably

Casino games online are becoming increasingly popular thanks to all jackpots each of them more fabulous than each other. In addition, when you register on an online casino, you are automatically entitled to a welcome bonus that you can use to begin to play almost for free. The incentives do not miss and can have a bad effect on new players who are frail and obsessed by the winnings. Indeed, casino games are primarily designed to relax and relies mostly on luck which is something impossible to predict and control. To limit the chances of addiction problems, we advise you to set a reasonable gambling budget that you will not exceed under any circumstance. In addition, we recommend that you do not rely on potential jackpots to schedule personal projects or to feed your family. So play at the casino in a reasonablea manner and have fun.

New Zealand poker's ad vs the country's department.

New Zealand District Court Judge David Harvey has ruled that live poker is it not gambling and ads for it and poker educational sites respect New Zealand's laws according to NZ Herald.co.nz.

The country's Department of Internal Affairs sued TV3 and C4 stations for showing ads during a show called Celebrity Joker Poker. Indeed, the country's Department of Internal Affairs accused the channel of not respecting the New Zealand's laws by promoting online gambling through this program which is illegal in New Zealand (though gambling online with a foreign operator is not).

POKER.ORG domain sold for a million dollars

Poker. Org internet domain was bought this week, and it was not a cheap purchase. The costly domain was sold by a Philadelphian advertising marketing agency called National A-1 Advertising.

The buyer, an online poker and gaming marketing company, paid a shocking 1 million dollars for the exclusives right of the desired domain, making "Poker. Org" the most expensive ".org" domain ever. However, a representative of the organization declared that the domain was a great asset for them and they were confident that the investment will pay off in the future.

This strategy of buying non ".com" domains responds to the current trend that points at bogs and web sites with non.com address to be more respectful and trustworthy.
